PAR TECHNOLOGY SUBSIDIARY ANNOUNCES $23.2 MILLION U.S. ARMY CONTRACT AWARD

NEW HARTFORD, NY PAR TECHNOLOGY CORPORATION (NYSE:PTC)

NEW HARTFORD, NY—August 18, 2009-- Rome Research Corporation (RRC), a subsidiary of PAR Technology Corporation (NYSE: PTC), received an award from the U.S. Army for a contract valued at $23.2 million to provide SATCOM Operations & Maintenance Services at the U.S. Army's Global Information Grid facility at Landstuhl, Germany. The contract performance covers a 6 month base period with four one-year option periods. RRC has been operating and maintaining teleport commercial and military satellite terminals for the Army at Landstuhl, Germany for nearly five years under a separate contract.

The contract provides SATCOM Operation and Maintenance (O&M) services for the Defense Satellite Communications System (DSCS), Standardized Tactical Entry Point (STEP), Teleport, Regional Hub Node, Ka-Band Satellite Transmit and Receive System (KA STARS) and Deployable Ku-Band Earth Terminals (DKET) at the SATCOM Facility located at Kirchberg Kaserne in Landstuhl.

Steve Lynch, President of PAR's Government Operations, commented: "The contract award for the Landstuhl SATCOM facility O&M is an important win for Rome Research as it again validates our excellence in providing I/T services for the Army and U.S. military. With this selection by the Army, we have once again proven our clear understanding of our customer's requirements and expectations. I am excited for our future, as we continue to build our resume, experience, and knowledge base with the Department of Defense I/T requirements."
